A National Place of Scenic Beauty Sukagawa Peony Garden

Sukagawa Peony Garden covers 10 hectares, which is one of the largest peony gardens in Japan. This garden features around 7,000 peonies of 290 species. In this garden, visitors can admire the breathtaking views of large blooming flowers alongside towering, ancient pine trees.

In 1766, Yurin Ito, a herbal medicine dealer, brought peony seedlings from what is now known as Takarazuka city and planted in his garden. That is considered the origin of Sukagawa Peony Garden.

The variety and number of peonies gradually increased over the years, taking on almost their present form. Eventually, the garden was designated as "A National Place of Scenic Beauty"
